Old Habits

Alcoa

I say goodnight to an empty space beside me
The only reply is the beat of my heart
I wake up and I make two black cups of coffee
The routine being with you taught me left its mark
These old, old habits die hardI get in the car and turn the radio on Expecting you to sing along but you never start
It's a lonely road and I can't see where it ends
Where I'm goin' and where we've been are so far apart
These old, old habits die hardI said goodbye when you let go
Still I hold on to all I've known
Wherever I am there you are
'Cause old, old habits die hardThese four walls are slowly closing in around me
Without your light I'm here drowning in the dark
I pick up the phone then I come straight to my senses
I know the consequences of going that far
Old, old habits die hardI said goodbye when you let go
Still I hold on to all I've known
Wherever I am there you are
These old, old habits die hardI say goodnight to an empty space beside me
The only reply is the beat of my heart
