Someone Watching Over You

Yolanda Adams

Say that you're not afraid, you're just fine
Got it all figured out this time
And all of the plans you made will work out
Deep inside you have your doubts but you're clinging to your pride
And you just don't know, you're free to let it go
'Cause even when it rains outside, there is light
Even when you cry all night, you're alright
Even when you lose your way, you'll get through
There is someone watching over you
Say you've been hurt before, you're afraid
That you'll never love again
And why should you take a chance just to fall?
But you'd rather build a wall than believe that you are loved Open up your heart, someone needs you as your are
'Cause even when it rains outside, there is light
Even when you cry all night, you're alright
Even when you lose your way, you'll get through
'Cause there is someone watching over you
I've been there at times I get scared, it's true
But I hold on to that I can't see Something inside of me
And that's what gives me strength to believe
Even if it rains outside, there is light
Even if you cry all night, you're alright
Even if lose your way, you'll get through
'Cause there is someone watching you
Even when it rains outside, there is light
And even when you cry all night, you're alright
Even when you lose your way, you'll get through You're gonna make it through
Because there is someone watching over you
Someone watching over you
Someone watching over you
Someone watching over you

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/