Split

Buck-O-Nine

You've been identified
You've been exemplified
I see you standing there playing with your hair
I'm talking to you but you don't even careI talk to people but most don't listen
They have a hard time dealing just with themselves most people are just narcissistic or they're just temporarily disconnected These people got lots to say but they don't have much to hear...Split! Split!
This girl had a sign on her face
I get worse just ad beer.You've been identified
You've been exemplified
I see you standing there playing with your hair
I'm talking to you but you don't even careI don't have time for your vanity
Just how much do you think you can change?
Don't want to see you on just sunny days and I'd never want to buy your lunch again Don't want to hear how fat you are when you're as skinny as you can be Don't want to hear you asking
"Is she cuter than me?"I'm getting on my way
'cause I can see that it's not your day
I'm getting on my way from you...You've been identified
You've been exemplified
I see you standing there playing with your hair
I'm talking to you but you don't even careI talk to people but most don't listen
They have a hard time dealing just with themselves most people are self-centristic
or they're just temporarily disconnected
I don't think in any situation
I could help you veer from your destination
I don't think in any situation
I could hang with you without frustration.I'm getting on my way
'cause I can see that it's not your day
I'm getting on my way from you...

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/