this endless summer will end today no time to ponder it will all just fade away I always wanted to share what I dream ice blue waters erase my memory this endless summer, where will I be? could someone tell me what happens after we pass away? no time to ponder I always wanted to share my dreams with you lying on the world's underside all I feel is chemical trying to remember sunlight all I see is chemical, chemical this endless summer is chemical this endless summer is chemical, chemical we pass away
