Push, Play

Miriam Bryant

With my words, across your face, you're making up stories of your own.
Little bits of white paper, in pockets deeper than you know.You painted black upon the whitest lies you've seen them fall, you have seen them rise you painted black upon the whitest lies, lies, your lies.Push play, stop rewind you drown your heroes in red wine.
Push play, stop rewind, you drown your heroes in red wine.Close enough to see your hands - sneaking out of these, embrace paper thin, whispering, breaking in You painted black upon the whitest lies you've seen them fall, you have seen them rise
you painted black upon the whitest lies, lies, your lies.Push play, stop rewind
you drown your heroes in red wine.
Push play, stop rewind, you drown your heroes in red wine.Waking up but staying down, your hero's left ya bleedin'
your breath is playing in the background don't waste it, ain't comin'Push play, stop rewind Aaaahhhh
Push play, stop rewind
you drown your heroes in red wine
Push play, stop rewind
you drown your heroes in red wineWaking up but staying down, your hero's left ya bleedin'
your breath is playing in the background don't waste it, ain't comin'

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/