Hey, Girl

Garrison Starr

What makes you think you gotta hold
The world on your shoulders and handle that load
Who gave you the fine tooth comb?
To judge your every move before youve even started to make oneHey girl
Its a beautiful day for flying
Dont you want to open your eyes?
Youre dyingSubtle was the way, the clouds rolled in on you
To fog up your windows and darken your view
An unforgiving face who dared you to escape
Living for the chance to scare you back in placeHey girl
Its a beautiful day for flying
Dont you want to open your eyes?Hey girl
Its a beautiful day for flying
Dont you want to open your eyes?
Youre dyingIts no way to live safe
All wrapped up in my fears
'Til I just suffocate
I will get through if its the last thing I do
