

Rest In the Arms

Mark Lowry

When money can't buy a solution
And plans can't find a way
When what worked before doesn't work anymore
And words have nothing to say
When tears are flowing like rivers
And hearts are breaking in two
If it seems when you pray God is so far away
There's still one thing you can do

Rest in the arms of the everlasting One
Rest in the care of God's ever loving Son
When all you can do has already been done
Rest in the Arms of God

The presence of God is around you
Even though it's hard to believe
That He would be there in the midst of despair
Without even meeting your need
But He is familiar with sorrow
And so acquainted with grief
The scars in his hands prove that He understands
In time He'll meet every need

So rest in the arms of the everlasting One
Rest in the care of God's ever loving Son
When all you can do has already been done
Find rest in the Arms of God
Rest in the arms of God
Rest in the arms of God
