Thought Balloon

Freezepop

such a pretty thing a white balloon on a string it floats above my head filled with stuff I should have said need to tell you how I feel say it out loud and make it real could've told you what I knew that I'm just so amazed by you you're the coolest boy I know but it's so hard to just say so don't mean to keep it all inside sometimes I get so tongue-tied thoughts can weigh me down my balloon dips closer to the ground I'm hoping that you catch my drift give my balloon a little lift thought balloon, above my head thought balloon, the things I should have said my thought balloon, I'll set it free my thought balloon, and lead you here to me

I've been quiet for too long and I'm gonna take the dare find a way to let you know (la la-la la) time to let my secrets go (la la-la la) I'll pull the words out of thin air

and finally I'll have my say and then my thought balloon can float away
