Stay

Robbie Seay Band

Hope is the call that is ringing in my soul
But I can't pretend that I see much light in front of meI wait to find You here
Hope is thrown away, I can't give up
I'll wait to see you here, I have gone astrayBut You will always stay beside me
And Your rescue comes to find me
And You always stayLove is the seed that is buried
Underneath the soil of pain and of grief
But it grows into the treeThat I'll climb to see You here
Hope is thrown away, I can't give up
I'll wait to see You here, I have gone astrayBut You will always stay beside me
And Your path is straight before me
You will always stay and You will always stayPride is the friend who betrays me in the end
Stealing joy, as it goes, leaves me longing for a homeI'll wait to find You here
Though I'm thrown away I can't give up
I'll wait to see You here, I have gone astray
And I believeI'll sing until You're here
Though I'm lost and afraid I can't give up
I'll wait to find You here, I have gone astrayAnd You will always stay beside me
And Your sun will rise above me
And Your light will shine upon us
And Your skies are clear above me
And You will always stay, You will always stay

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/