We R One

Terry Callier

Angels of the morning
Children of the dawn
Heaven bless and keep you
Help you carry onAll the heart has hoped for
All that eyes can see
Meant for your salvation
And felicityI have come to find you
And I must remind you
We R oneAngels of the evening
Children of the cross
Who can help us gather
All the things that we have lostLifetimes shifting phases
Dreams that we discern
Words of wealth and power
Oh, but that's not my concernI have come to find you
And I must remind you
We R oneThe stone clouds will be fading
Half the rainbow's in
There'll be a new beginning
For all of us, my friendI have come to find you
And I must remind you
We R oneI have come to find you
And I must remind you
We R oneI have come to find you
And I must remind you
We R one
