Near Miss

This is for my world
A slight goodbye to a girl
Life is short with each endless fall
A slight goodbye to a missed girlYou want it, you see it
You lost it and now it's found
Believe it now still it's all about
Only a phone call away
Still a miss our sad daysYou should have lived it
It never was so wrong
You should have been there all alongYou should have lived it
The past will never fade
You should have lived it
It will changeCan you still feel the night?
As we grow together, I pulled the light
Summer's coming and seasons change
So sing along feelings rearrangedInsides my own version
Of how things should be
Decisions I'd rather be asleep
Yesterday's thoughts left to keepYou should have lived it
It never was so wrong
You should have been there all alongYou should have lived it
The past will never fade
You should have lived it
It will changeYou should have lived it
It never was so wrong
You should have been there all along
