It Works Itself Out

Half Moon Run

Is it all that you need to get back and feel good, satisfied that you did what you could.
It works itself out, works itself out.
Just, is it time to take a look at what happened. Oh bound by...
When you made the mistake of reacting, to reaction.
You put your thoughts into the shape of a weapon
All you did was learn a terrible lesson
That you can sell me out again
Sell me out again
There is a thought that drifts away and to let go. The memory replaced by distractions.
To distraction
(vocals)
You can sell me out again
Sell me out again
