

The Once and Future Queen

John Paul White

Someone's gonna to hold your hand and
Everything will click
Touch you in some unknown way
That finally does the trick
Pull in a fairy tale
Where you were meant to be
That someone,
That someone won't be me. Someone's out there prayin' for
The day that you walk in
A happy ever after can finally begin
Someone who'll stop at nothin'
To give you all you need
That someone,
That someone won't be me. But that's ok
I never really loved you anyway
At least not unconditionally
That subjects love the once and future Queen. If I thought I was good for you
If I thought this could work
I'd reach a little wire and
Pull you back to Earth
But the man you're really looking for
The one in all your dreams
That someone,
That someone won't be me. But that's ok
You never really loved me anyway
Not enough to meet me half the way
Oh love's something you can only take And that's ok
I never really loved you anyway
At least not unconditionally
That subjects love the once and future Queen.
