

To Whom It May Concern

Mercyme

To whom it may concern when will we learn
We are all the same
Do you really think that youâ€™re the first
To fall along the way

It may sound crazy but what if
You donâ€™t try to run
Rather than kick our wounded
We could just lift you up

Oh oh oh
Weâ€™re not throwing stones
Hey hey hey
You are not your shame
Oh oh oh
You canâ€™t go alone
Hey hey hey
We wonâ€™t go away

I can see itâ€™s written on your face
It reads with every line
Wishing you could somehow just erase
Or even turn back time

Donâ€™t let yourself buy into the lie
That you are too far gone
So let us remind you that youâ€™re
Not what you have done

Oh oh oh
Weâ€™re not throwing stones
Hey hey hey
You are not your shame
Oh oh oh
You canâ€™t go alone
Hey hey hey
We wonâ€™t go away

Weâ€™re not throwing stones
Hey hey hey

You are not your shame
Oh oh oh
You can't go alone
Hey hey hey
We won't go away

We won't go away
We won't go away

Breathe deep and believe that wherever you go
It don't matter how high, don't matter how low
It comes down to being found and
Who you know, you know, yeah

Breathe deep and believe that wherever you go
It comes down to being found and
Who you know, you know, yeah

Breathe deep and believe that wherever you go
It comes down to being found and
Who you know, you know, yeah

Breathe deep and believe that wherever you go
It comes down to being found and
Who you know, you know, yeah

Breathe deep and believe that wherever you go
It comes down to being found and
