

Where You Are

Marc Broussard

Your skin is like the moonlight
Dancing in the midnight
Your touch is sweet as candy
Your kisses they taste so fine, so fine
And I want to love you better, you don't have to be alone
I want to let you know forever is waiting right here at home
And I want to be where you are
Come on take all I've got
I want you to know just how I feel
I've loved you from the start
I want to be where you are
Girl you know how to move me
Making me believe, believe
You'll blind a man with beauty
Love will make him see, I can see
And I want to love you better and nowhere is too far
I want to let you know forever is right here in my heart
And I want to be where you are
Come on take all I've got
I want you to know just how I feel
I've loved you from the start
I want to be where you are
I've stood alone in New York City
I've watched the sunset in L.A
I ride for miles and miles and end up getting nowhere
But I've never felt this way
Never felt this way
Never felt this way
And I want to be where you are
Come on take all I've got
I want you to know just how I feel
I've loved you from the start
I've stood alone in New York City
I've watched the sunset in L.A
I ride for miles and miles and end up getting nowhere
But I've never, never felt this way
And I want to be where you are
Come on take all I've got
I want you to know just how I feel

I've loved you from the start
I want to be where you are
