No Love But Your Love

Johnny Mathis

No love but your love can set my world on fire
No love but your love can fill me with desire
No love but your love can shape my destiny
No love but your love can make a slave of me
No arms but your arms can banish all my fears
No charms but your charms could last a thousand years
No love but your love will ever thrill me so
No love but your love will my heart ever know
No love but your love will my heart ever know
No love
