One Thing Remains

Default

You don't know it all
I've got you figured out
So proud, walking tall
Is what you're all about
What you are is what you make
Don't know how to give and take
Blame it all on someone else
Everyone except yourself
One step forward
Never seems to get you nowhere
Sinking faster
In you go
You wanna save the day
So you grab on the reins and run in circles
You're gonna crash and drag the world down with you
Only one thing remains
Hey man, be aware
Better watch yourself today
I know he don't care

About you anyway
You can run but you can't hide
From the guilt you built inside
All the lies they won't forget
Never will get over it
Thinking backwards
How the hell did this get started?
Drowning faster
Down you go
You wanna save they day
So you grab on the reins and run in circles
You're gonna crash and drag the world down with you
Only one thing remains
You wanna save they day
So you grab on the reins and run in circles
You're gonna crash and drag the world down with you
Only one thing remains
