

Destroyer

Mads Eriksen

He spent his life a silent sentinel for all to fear
He walks, he talks, he thinks, he feels but no dare go near
He takes in all he sees, nothing escapes his gaze
And when he strikes, he strikes for right, a glorious sight
Destroyer, destroyer
Destroyer, he's in town
He came to be from a grand mistake, a mystical charade
Created to decide the good and bring repercussive aid
As awareness filled his fame and he examined those who leered
And he cleaved the air with his fiery stare rend all those there
Destroyer, destroyer
Destroyer, he's in town
A day will come you'll be drawn into the center of your town
And come upon a mass of steel that cracks the very ground
Prepare to meet your judge, don't think to run away
Just pray your face holds no disgrace for the deadly ace
Destroyer, destroyer
Destroyer, he's in
Destroyer, destroyer
Destroyer, he's in town
Oh, he's in town
You'd better stay out of his fucking way
He's gonna kick your ass
Yeah, destroyer
