

Salt

Pree

You should be scared
And whatâ€™s a wife thatâ€™s never there?
And I am one to share what I have come to bear

Suffer what they will not speak
and they want naught to do with me

Quite a scene, a chance for ready eyes to carve a name to prize and send no breath to sting the air
The wall will sing the lionâ€™s share

Itâ€™s not hard-- itâ€™s hard to stop A stack of smoke that spills a mouth Found you once, I found you out A stack of smoke that kills a mouth

Suffer what they will not speak
and they want naught to do with me

Borrowed things are nothing had, and now itâ€™s made him something sad to shadow when heâ€™s walking slow no matter now-- they know, they know

In the summer, long ago we gave the winter quite a blow fell asleep, and donâ€™t you know, we fell asleep and woke to snow

Lyrics submitted by Melissa Frazee.

Lyrics provided by <https://damnllyrics.com/>