Everyone Here Smells Like A Rat

The Almost

Irresponsible child, get a hold on yourself
You look so different when you wear your
Everything just where they can see it, you ask me where do I go
Everything falls out of place when you just Dont know where to goEveryone here knows how important this is
Their faces make them look so serious
It will make them strong enough
Youll never be strong enoughMy precious boy, I know how hard this really must get
Just come down, just get off
Ill give you half a manic get in the car, let's go somewhere else
You need to chase away all the pain you think you feel Scream yeah, that your fears make you saneEveryone here knows how important this is
Their faces make them look so serious
It will make them strong enoughAll of us here hate what we feel from you
Were not signified but we know whats true
You have to be strong enoughTheres something more, we'll have to stop you now
I lived in grace, well make you leave the ground
Theres something more, we'll have to stop you now
I lived in grace, well make you leave the groundEveryone here knows how important this is
Their faces make them look so serious
It will make them strong enoughAll of us here hate what we feel from you
Were not signified but we know whats true
You have to be strong enoughEveryone here
