Something Anything

Travis

Like a melody that is impossible to play, I wait
In my memory there's a part of you that's gone away, yeah
To keep my mind from wandering, I'm wondering
To keep myself from falling in, I'm followingSomething anything just to keep believing
Just to keep me breathing for a moment longer
Something anything just to keep believing
Just to keep me breathing for a moment longerI'd tell you anything if I had anything to say, yeah
I keep it bottled in 'cause there's a time and there's a place for this, yeah
I keep my story where it is and act as if I don't even know what it is
When all I need isSomething anything just to keep believing
Just to keep me breathing for a moment longer
Something anything just to keep believing
Just to keep me breathing for a moment longer
