

Evil Ruby

Beasts of Bourbon

In a town I forgot the name of
There lived a boy named Dan
    Who was driver of the
The railroad train that ranWell he loved that train so much
    He loved it with his heart
But then he met a pretty young girl
    That's when the trouble starts
When the trouble startsWell Ruby was her name
    And she drove old Dan insane
But she didn't want to share Dan's love
    With the railroad train
    A three way love is trouble
    I guess you already know
    So evil Ruby decided
    Someone had to go
Someone had to goWell evil deeds to Ruby
    Was surely nothing new Cause late that night she decided
Just what she had to doDanny's blood ran that night
    With the pouring rain
    Cause evil Ruby shot that boy
    And stole the railroad train
    Stole that railroad train
    Well the moral of the story
    If you don't want to end like Dan
    Forget that girl and take that train
    And leave for Vietnam
