Come Away September

Windowpane

I'm rolling over and you're not around
I can still remember
The last rain of summer, still on the ground
It's not easy thinking that everything has changed
It's not easy thinking that everything is the same
But you're in a better place
Come away September, won't remember me
'Cause I'm just a fantasy
I got lost inside your dream
Under the winter, the feelings are strained
I can see you fading
And under the ocean, that feelings the same
It's not easy knowing, that nothing could be done
It's not easy knowing defeat has finally won,
And you're in a better place...
Everything has changed
The shadows twist and follow me
For all the things I'll never be
And all the little ways
I longed to hear you say
You'd carry me this way
And never take this thing
But all that's gone away
So come away...

Lyrics submitted by Kimberly Cole.

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/