The Call

Tom West

I feel like a rain cloud
Iâ€™m heading eastbound
Breaking as I fall
Iâ€™m in the valley
I am the mist, I am the ferns,
I am the evening shadow
I heard you

I heard the heavens form,
I heard the lions roar,
I heard the sirens calling to your arms

I donâ€™t know you but youâ€™re real
As real as the hills
There is a darkness,
There is a light thereâ€™s always a light that real

I heard the heavens form,
I heard the lions roar,
I heard the sirens calling to your arms

I am the mist, I am the ferns,
I am the rain, I am the storm
You are the wind, and you are the light
Break me on the mountainside

I heard the heavens form,
I heard the lions roar,
I heard the sirens calling to your arms
