

Miss You, Love You

Maroon 5

This has not been easy

This has been hard

I am scarred

And I do not know what to do with you. Go inside, kiss your mouth with my lips
Grab your hips, can't remember why I fell in love with this But I miss you, I love you

It's a shame you can't stay away from me this time, oh no

You beg me, you ask me to kiss you and hug you

You won't be getting my affection again, oh no

I don't need you tonight Who do you think you are?

No one cares about a name without a face

So don't go shooting up the place

Make no mistake, your love's not real

'Cause the love that I've got is deeper, so much deeper than you could ever feel And I miss you, I love you

It's a shame you can't stay away from me this time, oh no

You beg me, you ask me to kiss you and hug you

You won't be getting my affection again, oh no

'Cause I don't need you tonight It was really nice to know you

But, there's nothing left to show you

I got bills to pay, get out the way, it's time to move on

And dinner with your boyfriend, will never be the same again

Discuss me over cigarettes and say to him I miss you, I love you

It's a shame you can't stay away from me this time, oh no

You beg me, you ask me

To kiss you and hug you

You won't be getting my affection again

So oh no, 'cause I don't need you

And I miss you, I love you

It's a shame you can't stay away from me this time, oh no

You beg me, you ask me to

Kiss you and hug you

You won't be getting my affection again

So no no, 'cause I won't need you
