Sorry

Maria Mena

Vague sound of rain
Pierces through my song again
But I get distracted by the way his toes move
When he plays so I let it burn
I just poured my heart out
There's bits of it on the floor
And I take what's left of it and rinse it
Under cold water and call him up for more
And I say, "Baby, yes, I feel stupid to call you
But I'm lonely and I don't think, you meant it when you said
You couldn't love me and I thought
Maybe if I kissed the way you do, you'd feel it too"
He said, "I'm sorry
So sorry
I'm sorry
So sorry"
He grabs my wrist
As my fingers turn into angry fists
And I whisper why can't you love me
I'll change for you, I'll play the part
And I say, "Baby, so I feel stupid to call you
But I'm lonely and I don't think, you meant it when you said
You couldn't love me and I thought
Maybe if I kissed the way you do, you'd feel it too"
He said, "I'm sorry
So sorry
I'm sorry
I am sorry"
