Whatever

Jordan Pruitt

You can't please everybody all the time
So instead of tryin', I say whatever, whatever, whatever
Oh, you might take things a little differently
And that's okay with me, I say whatever, whatever, whateverI thought she was such a good friend of mine
But lately she's driving me crazy
She's acting too cool and dignified
And I don't know why every thing's changingI'm so fed up and I cannot lie
Cause I'm tired of trying to please
But she won't let it go, so I gotta let her know
That I won't let it bother meYou can't please everybody all the time
So instead of tryin', I say whatever, whatever, whatever
Oh, you might take things a little differently
And that's okay with me, I say whatever, whatever, whateverShe keeps saying that I already crossed the line
By spendin' time with who she's dating
I don't think she understands who I am
Or cares about what she's breakingI'm so fed up and I wanna scream
'Cause I'm sick of her jealousy
But she won't let it go, so I gotta try to show
That I don't let it bother meYou can't please everybody all the time
So instead of tryin', I say whatever, whatever, whatever
Oh, you might take things a little differently
And that's okay with me, I say whatever, whatever, whateverI can't pretend that it doesn't ever bother me
All this stressin', negativity, I feel so misunderstood
I only wish I could change the way she feels about meYou can't please everybody all the time
So instead of tryin', I say whatever, whatever, whatever
Oh, you might take things a little differently
And that's okay with me, I say whatever, whatever, whatever

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/