

Mastermind

Grace Potter & The Nocturnals

Can you believe in something
Bigger than what you left behind?
Like a balloon on a long string
The recipe for the mastermind One part sugar, two parts feeling
Three cups full of bottled lightening
Four parts water, five parts believing
Mix it all together and you put both feet in Now can you rely on your own two hands
To cut you free from all that made you blind?
One in a million would be given this chance
Its the recipe for the mastermind One part sugar, two parts feeling
Three cups full of bottled lightening
Four parts of water, five parts believing
And mix it all together and put both feet in Oh, won't you be my mastermind?
Oh, won't you be my mastermind?
I said I'm gonna feed you and make you shine
Oh, won't you be my mastermind? One part sugar, two parts feeling
Three cups full of bottled lightening
Four parts of water, five parts believing
Mix it all together, mix it all together and you put both feet in
