Hold the Sky

Babble

I know you're watching me 'cause I've been watching you
Pretend that you don't care when I know you really do
The stars are at war that heaven is up top
But I won't give you up I will shelter you from harmYou don't have to hold the sky up anymore
You don't have to hold your tears back anymoreThe crown that you've been wearing is heavy on your soul
I look into your eyes, I see you all I need to knowYou don't have to hold the sky up anymore
You don't have to hold your tears back anymore
You don't have to hold the sky up anymore
You don't have to hold your tears back anymoreI will put my arms around you, it's your turn to cry
You can close the door behind you, be the little childYou don't have to hold the sky up anymore
You don't have to hold your tears back anymore
You don't have to hold the sky up anymore
You don't have to hold your tears back anymore

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/