Megan

This Ascension

once a blinded girl flaunted in a fantasy world then hid below away from pain nurtured by the running rain once a wise man said bargain for the world but reckon with it not lightly (what goes comes back) endure it rightly they hated and they loved they burned and they cried they watched and they wondered but despite all they tried probably other was not meant to be bonded not by flesh but spirit for eternity
