

The Battle of the Ancient Warriors

Ancient

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

Death herself had chosen me
To let me watch that gruesome scene
And she held me in her daunting hand
 Amazed by that macabre view,
 My heart begun to pulse
 Galvanized by horrors that I saw
 The battle was butchering and
 The hordes were rising against each other
 Saving nothing but death
 The dust was rising up in the sky,
 Dead bodies were lying on the ground,
 A deadly mass of fierce warriors fighting
 While the demons were prevailing
 On the sons of god
 They were tuning dirges saying: "DIE!!!
 Meaningless creatures, slaves of the light
 I will triumph for the the evil lives in me!"
 A veil of flames war covering the field
 The bloody battle reached its end
 The ancient warriors got victory in hand
 The Battle of battles was won!
Her Majesty, the wicked one, was staring at her enemy
 Thunderstrucks resounding once again
 The seven angels holding trumpets disappeared god left the field beaten as the earth started to shake...
 It was my dream!!!

Lyrics provided by <https://damnlrics.com/>