Homeland

Europe

Remember that summer down by the shoreline
I still can hear those old forgotten songs
And we made promises to last forever
I just can't believe those days are gone, long goneThere used to be a place that we could call our own
We used to think tomorrow was a long, long time
But sadness filled my heart when I knew, I knew the moment had come Yeah, when I had to leave those days behindOh, I felt so free where I wanted to be
The days went so fast how I wish they could lastSo far from my homeland, I'm lost in time
And my soul's still searchin' for that peace of mind
Those sacred landscapes come miles around
And my heart's still beatin' for those country grounds, yeah yeahRemember when our hearts were filled with laughter
It echoes in my trail of fallen tears, yeah
But no matter where I am today or what the future might bring Oh, I will remember those long gone years, yeahI can't let go I wanna know
Does it have to end for the best of friendsSo far from my homeland, I'm lost in time
And my soul's still searchin' for that peace of mind
Those sacred landscapes come miles around
And my heart's still beatin' for those country groundsOh, Lord, I know, I know, I know that those days are gone
Long, long, gone
I felt so free where I wanted to be
The days went so fast how I wish they could lastSo far from my homeland, I'm lost in time
And my soul's still searchin' for that peace of mind
Those sacred landscape they come miles around
And my heart's still beatin' for those country grounds, yeah yeahRemember that summer down by the shoreline

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/