

Long Hair

Drowners

Barely nineteen, I see you every night
Whispering 'between us girls
I don't think of him that often anymore
All the girls had long hair
All the boys had long hair
And you were missing out
Once a week i'll keep an evening free for you
Does he teach you things
Does he teach you things
That you'd never do for me?
I know what you mean
All the girls had long hair
All the boys had long hair
And you were missing out
