

Lighter Side

Benjamin Winter

There's gotta be a lighter side
There's gotta be somewhere to hide
Outside the city lights
It's gotta be easier on the eyes
And if I decide to go
Step outside today and not even lock the door
Well, had something to say and so you came
It ate you alive, now the only way to keep it real is to go away
So no more coffee shop nights
My generation cries from Apple laptop lights
And everybody wants to play
But you gotta believe in what you do and do what you say
I know I, I, I
So If I, if I asked you to write
Something to inspire me to leave tonight
Would you heed your own lies
In the passenger seat you fall asleep
Don't worry I'll drive
All night
And if I decide to go
I step outside today and not even lock the door
Well, had something to say and so you came
It ate you alive, now the only way to keep it real is to go
Away
Go away
Go away
