

In the End

House of Heroes

If you insist on losing your innocence

Don't give it up to him

That's where I should have been

I'll crawl right out of my grave

Just to be with you

Like dreamers do, we'll dangle our feet off the edge Here's the wonder keeping stars apart

I carry your heart, I carry it in my heart

And like a lion running to the slaughter

I'll run for you daughter

I'll come for you in the end

I come in late

Covered in cold

Numb in my blood

Numb in my bones

And there you are

You don't need no alibi

Your love is pardon, you see my eye to eye Here's the wonder keeping stars apart

I carry your heart, I carry it in my heart

And like a lion running to the slaughter

I'll run for you daughter

I'll come for you in the end I'll run for you baby, I'll be coming for you in the end I keep thinking you'll change your mind

When you see my demons come fully alive

But you're not afraid of them

You're so much braver than me

Like love is braver than fear

Like love is a mystery

Here's the wonder keeping stars apart

I carry your heart, I carry it in my heart

And like a lion running to the slaughter

I'll run for you daughter

I'll come for you in the end I'll run for you baby, I'll be coming for you in the end
