When Skin Turns Blue

Six Feet Under

Your death, your blood, your life, you're dead
Your death, your blood, your life, you're dead
Your death, your blood, your life, you're dead
You're dead, you're dead, you're deadTo the death, slit your neck
Dark, dark demons haunt
The death, in death demons haunt
The heart pumps then it stopsFlow through your life then you drop
Blood, the blood, in blood, the blood, dark, dark demons haunt
The very blood that runs through you
It's time to die when skin turns blueYour skin turned blue, you breathed your last breath
Rotten in the crypt is your next step
Friend with the maggots in your head
Bleed again and again, die, you're deadFeel it dripping, feel the drip
Formaldehyde, you're prepared for the crypt
But it's cold in the grave, in my tomb
When skin turns blueYou'll know your time is through when skin turns blue
You're dead inside of you when skin turns blue
You'll know your time is through when skin turns blue
Crawl back into the wombGoddamn you
Goddamn my soul
Goddamn you
Goddamn all of youYour death, your blood, your life, you're dead
Your death, your blood, your life, you're dead
Your death, your blood, your life, you're dead
You're dead, you're deadTo the death, slit your neck
Dark, dark demons haunt
The death, in death, demons haunt
The heart pumps then it stopsFlow through your life then you drop
The very blood that flows through you
It's time to die when skin turns blue
