Lay It Down

Sister Hazel

You need a little makeup dear
To cover up all your stains
With another trick right here, yeah
You fool them all once again
You need a little emptiness
Before you know what is real
And take a little taste of wine, yeah
To give yourself half a chance
And when you're weak and holding on
Release your wayward soul
And with these treasures you have found
The broken pieces of your crown
It's time to lay your cross on down
Lay it down
And with this kingdom you have now
It's time to lay your cross on down
You better lay it down
You carry in a bright white lie
To cover up all your shame
You're gonna have to testify, yeah
To color in all your claims
And when you're weak of holding on
Release your wayward soul
Spend your days not falling down
Before your empty idols
And with these treasures you have found
The broken pieces of your crown
It's time to lay your cross on down
Lay it down
With this kingdom you have now
It's time to lay your cross on down
You better lay it down
And when you're weak of holding on
Release your wayward soul
On your walk to surround yourself
With rightful idols
And with these treasures you have found
The broken pieces of your crown
It's time to lay your cross on down

Lay it down
And with this kingdom you have now
It's time to lay your cross on down
You better lay it down
Lay it down, lay it down
And with these treasures you have found
The broken pieces of your crown
It's time to lay your cross on down
Lay it down, lay it down
And with this kingdom you have now
It's time to lay your cross on down
You better lay it down

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/