Easy To Fall

Journey

In the morning, sunlight shining
The face in the mirror knows the crime
Voices cry from the darkness
A broken promise one more time
You say you believe in love
And still you run
You only believe in God when you come undone
So here you are
You brought everything on yourself
So easy to fall
When you're all alone by yourself
He said he's tried everything he could
A fool's illusion one more lie

There'll be demons waitin' in the shadows of a concrete world
Tears are runnin' tonight
You say you believe in love
And still you run
You only believe in God when you come undone
So here you are
You brought everything on yourself
So easy to fall, (easy to fall)
When you're all alone by yourself
Words unspoken
The words unspoken
The words unspoken
The words unspoken
