See Me Now

Cartel

And it's the same foregone conclusion All the things hurt when I was young It's the sample of delusion Spit from everybody's tongueAnd I don't know how to be another Don't know how to be the one Oh, I have only just discovered who I am And where I'm coming from If you could see me now There'd be no purpose left to try and figure out If you could see me now You would be the last one in or outAnd we can talk about solutions 'Til we're red or blue in the face And we can stare at our illusions And just smile 'til the mirror breaksAnd I don't know how to be another Don't know how to be the one Oh, I have only just discovered who I am And what I have become If you could see me now There'd be no purpose left to try and figure out If you could see me now You would be the last one in or outThere's no accounting the days When you uncover what I see And are you going away? I swear it's only your mistakeIf you could see me now There'd be no purpose left to try and figure out If you could see me now You would be the last one in or outIf you could see me now There'd be no purpose left to try and figure out If you could see me now You would be the last one in or outIf you could see me now There'd be no purpose left to try and figure out If you could see me now You would be the last one in or out
