

Rats In the Wall

Disappear, fade away.
Walk across the void, back into the rays of the sun. It's gonna burn, burn it's gonna stay scared into your memory.
You won't remember me.
No one will, no one can.
Try to keep tomorrow as a backup plan
'cause there's no guarantee if it's even gonna come.
Step into the rays of the burning sun They will run
you can't go home anymore
rats in the wall, rats in the wall
I can hear them crawl You don't know, you don't understand.
Everything, to you, it was already planned by a man in the sky who chooses who he keeps sheltered from the bombs and the choppers and napalm.
Blood on the beach, blood on their hands all of the people that you fuckin' defend and there's no guarantee it's even gonna come so step into the rays of the burning sun. they will run
you can't go home anymore
rats in the wall, rats in the wall
rats in the wall
I can hear them crawl
rats in the wall, rats in the wall
I can hear them crawl
I can hear them crawl, crawl
I can hear them crawl
