Motorcar

A Shrine

It has happened now
The thing that you swore that you'd never do
It has happened now
And it's him again
And pop, you are down on your back again
Everytime she comes around
She knocks you down and leaves you there
And everytime she comes around
She uses you for her own ends
It's your motorcar
She loves it when you drive her everywhere
But she won't pay no
Everytime she comes around
She knocks you down and leaves you there
And everytime she comes around
She uses you for her own ends
Her own ends
But it's never too far
Never too far
It's never too far
To go by car
It has happened now
The thing that you swore that you'd never do
It has happened now
And it's him again
And pop, you are down on your back again
Everytime she comes around
She knocks you down and leaves you there
And everytime she comes around
She uses you for her own ends
Her own ends
Everytime she comes around
She knocks you down and leaves you there
And every time she comes around
She uses you for her own ends
Her own ends
But it's never too far
Never too far
It's never too far

To go by car
