

The Missing McCloud Boys

The Prize Fighter Inferno

In the days when children sung
In the heart claim shattered son
You were right in telling them
Where they were beneath the snowSpace call God right now
Let them be judged upon
What they've done to him, my son
In the snow before the sunPlease God, right now
Please God, right nowIf they could only say all the things they saw would they?
They were only boys
With time I create
Invest investigate puzzle solved belatedIf they could only say all the things they saw would they?
They were only boys
With time I create
Invest investigate puzzle solved belatedWhich one killed my boy?
My question to incriminating convoy
I want death and blood for my son
We will curse that forms the sunSpeak
Please God, right now
Please God, right nowIf they could only say all the things they saw would they?
They were only boys
With time I create
Invest investigate puzzle solved belatedIf they could only say all the things they saw would they?
They were only boys
With time I create
Invest investigate puzzle solved belatedIf they could only say all the things they saw would they?
They were only boys
With time I create
Invest investigate puzzle solved belatedIf they could only say all the things they saw would they?
They were only boys

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>