

Do You Still

The Wrights

Honey are you happy that you wear that little ring?
Or is it heavy on your finger, is it like a ball and chain?
The first time that you saw it, it gave you such a thrill
You said I do, but do you still? Do you still need my shoulder when things aint going right?
Do you still want me to hold you in the middle of the night?
Honey would you tell me if you changed the way you feel?
You said I do, but do you still? When you come home in the evening are you driving kind of slow?
Are you wishing there was somewhere else but home to go?
Do you smile on the inside when youre pulling up the hill?
You said I do, but do you still? Do you still need my shoulder when things aint going right?
Do you still want me to hold you in the middle of the night?
Honey has it happened, have you changed the way you feel?
You said I do, but do you still? Honey do they haunt you, the promises we made?
Do the vows that we whispered still ring true today?
Or is it just a bad dream, a bitter little pill?
You said I do, but do you still? Do you still need my shoulder when things aint going right?
Do you still want me to hold you in the middle of the night?
Honey has it happened, have you changed the way you feel?
You said I do, but do you still? You said I do, but do you still?
