

Simple

Angie Miller

Pick up your pieces
Burn them away
Fire up your demons
And go dancing with the flames
Sing an old song
That sounds the same
Go paint your mask on
You don't fool me anyway
There's an art to being fakeIt's so simple...I watch you blend in
As colors melt
One in a million
Just like everybody else
Are you a number?
Or are you a name?
Pen on the paper
You just signed your life away
There's an art to being vainIt's so simple
