Shaken

Deerheart

I've stood alone a million times
That's not the same as being alone
I've felt ignored and left behind before
That's not the same as being disownedOpen my eyes and help me see
There's a world outside of me
I'm no different, I want to make a difference tonightThe words don't always come out right
And I don't normally cry
But you didn't see the look in her eyesI've been shaken from my head on down to my toes
Lord, use me, take me where You want me to go
I can't help it, my heart has been replaced with a face
I'm ready, these hands are dedicated to changeI've hurt before but held inside
I've seen their tears 'cause pain is something they can't hide
What makes us different?
We have a chance to listen tonightThe words don't always come out right
And I don't normally cry
But you didn't see the look in her eyesI've been shaken from my head on down to my toes
Lord, use me, take me where You want me to go
I can't help it, my heart has been replaced with a face
I'm ready these hands are dedicated to changeOpen my eyesI've been shaken from my head on down to my toes
Lord, use me, take me where You want me to go
I can't help it, my heart has been replaced with a face
I'm ready these hands are dedicated to changeI've been shaken from my head on down to my toes
Lord, use me, take me where You want me to go
I can't help it, my heart has been replaced with a face
I'm ready these hands are dedicated to change

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/