Inertia

Trapdoor Social

Turned pale gasping for air
Hands tied on top of a chair
Time goes by so callously

Outside walking around
Seem free but carefully bound
Woken everytime I sleep

Tough I wouldn't dream it
If I hadn't seen it
Staring out

No one could deserve this
Hanging from a rope that never ends
Every second I'm nervous

Still think that there's a purpose
Waiting for the slack to reach its end
It can't be long now

Think slow but fast on the draw
Let slip the things that i saw
Tangled up inside my head
And I can't forget them

Wait for the doorknob to turn
Lie wake waiting to learn
Dreams bleed out into my bed
And I'm lying in them

Tough I wouldn't dream it
If I hadn't seen it
Staring out

No one could deserve this
Hanging from a rope that never ends
Every second I'm nervous

Still think that there's a purpose
Waiting for the slack to reach its end

It can't be long now

Ships are floating away x3

[Not enough for me.. x2]

No one could deserve this
Hanging from a rope that never ends
Every second I'm nervous

Still think that there's a purpose
Waiting for the slack to reach its end
It can't be long now

[Run right now you're in the clear]

It can't be long now

[Cut it loose and dissapear]

It can't be long now
---
Lyrics submitted by Hanaa ELsabagh.

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/