Already All I Need

Christy Nockels

Asking where You are, Lord, wondering where you've been is like standing in a hurricane, trying to find the wind and hoping for Your mercy to meet me where I am is forgetting that Your thoughts for me outnumber the sand You filled the sun with morning light You bid the moon to lead the night
You clothe the lilies bright and beautiful [chorus]
You're already all I need already everything that I could hope for You're already all I need You've already set me free already making me more like You You're already I need
Jesus
You're already all I needwalking through this life without Your freedom in my heart is like holding on to shackles that You have torn apart so remind me of Your promises and all that You have done in this world I will have trouble but you have overcome and every gift that I receive You determine just for me but nothing I desire compares to You [chorus]
[bridge] in your fullness Your my all in all and in Your healing I'm forever made whole and in Your freedom Your love overflows and carries me
You carry me
yes You carry me
you carry me
[chorus]

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/