Doorway to Survive

Brainstorm

[use your head and think before you speak!] [discover the fear... alter you aggresseions!]every word that you say, every lie i can hear every moment of weakness you do tell me why you are here and what's meant to be will be discovered by your enemymy time has almost come to rise to open up your mindturn into the fire, the truth will be heard enlighten the black of your soul to light up the spirit and keep you alive, this is the doorway to survivewhat ever happens, tell me who's to blame? no hope but my questions will remain ignored by the system, no truth comes about i'm falling in fear againup from the unknown, i'm here to rise but there's not much time...
