

Crashin' & Burnin'

Fred Eaglesmith

Well it's always got to work out for you, doesn't it?
Everything's just got to be fine,
When you see your old boyfriends on the street,
They all say "Hello!", and "You're so sweet!",
Well it ain't gonna be like that this time.

Cuz I'm crashin' and I'm burnin',
I'm going down in flames,
I'm crashin' and I'm burnin',
And you're watchin' me...
You're just watchin' me.

And you like to talk about honesty,
Like you just invented the word,
Til' all your silly lies are just left spilling from your eyes,
And I don't believe a single thing I've heard.

Cuz I'm crashin' and I'm burnin',
I'm going down in flames,
I'm crashin' and I'm burnin',
And you're watchin' me,
You're just watchin' me.

Don't tell me that you're sorry,
Don't tell me that I'm wrong,
Cuz this is your favorite story,
You've known it all along...

And I'm crashin' and I'm burnin',
I'm going down in flames,
I'm crashin' and I'm burnin',
And you're watchin' me,
You're just watchin' me.
