

Heartbreak Down

Pink

I like to think that i'm a pretty good kisser
I like to think I maybe broke a few hearts
But since I met you I'm a victim of disaster

I like to think I got it down to an artSo here's where the problem starts

You're shitting on my heart

Oh I can't take it again and again and againAll I wanted from you

Was a night maybe two

You beat me at my own game

No, it's not okay

I'm the one that's missing out

All I needed to do

Was get just a taste of you

And now I'm sick all in my head

You poisoned me instead

Trust me, trust me, I think I got heartbreak downI like to wake and go to bed around whenever

I like to maybe come and go when I choose

But now I'm waiting for a text, call, whatever

What's gotten into me, besides you (Oops!)

You're like a rush, you're like a drug, it's just the sight of you

I like to think that I could kick you but it's what you do

When you wink at me

What's the lord think of me

For being so fucking weak, I find it hard for me to breatheSo here's where my story endsI got to make amends

I let me down

Again and again and again and againAll I wanted from you

Was a night maybe two

You beat me at my own game

No, it's not okay

I'm the one that's missing out

All I needed to do

Was get just a taste of you

And now I'm sick all in my head

You poisoned me instead

Trust me, trust me, I think I got heartbreak downHere's what we have to do

Stay together, keep it true

Can't be strong too late for cool

I won't live without you

(You are not rid of me!)All I wanted from you

Was a night maybe two

You beat me at my own game
No, it's not okay
I'm the one that's missing out
All I needed to do
Was get just a taste of you
And now I'm sick all in my head
You poisoned me instead
Trust me, trust me, I think I got heartbreak down
